Board gives 6 per cent increase to bus line

Haliburton - It will cost the taxpayers of Haliburton County more to send their children to school this year, six per cent more to be exact.

Travelways has settled for a six per cent increase for its 27 routes bringing the boards payout to a total of $327,968 to Travelways. This is up from $309,404.

The total cost of the 58 routes operated by the board will be up to about $488,000 for a year.

The board of education's transportation Committee, originally offered the bus company a three per cent increase. That was changed to 4.5 per cent after the bus company stuck to the eight per cent it was asking for.

Representatives of the bus lines were at the board meeting last week in Haliburton to explain their rising costs and the reasons an eight per cent increase was necessary.

Jerry Stock, of the company said that the company had to have an eight per cent increase to carry on for another year.

He explained that costs in the Haliburton area are higher than other areas because of road conditions such as hills and the colder climate.

"If we don't get eight per cent we cannot carry on with any less," he said at the meeting.

In a discussion among the board members following the visit by the company officials Chairman Rick Poole said that if the board did not settle with the company tenders would have to be called and explained that there was a possibility of not having bus service.

Ross Anderson Jr., a board trustee and chairman of the transportation committee said that the board made its offer based on its yearly cost pointing out that the board is still paying more than Simcoe and Victoria Counties.

Trustee Len Salvatori said that the board would have trouble justifying 4.5 per cent when the consumer index is up 8.5 per cent. He said, "There must be room for him to bend but if there is not room for us to move then there is no use staying here."

It was pointed out at the meeting that a one per cent increase represented $3,100.

After the discussion the committee was sent back to offer the bus lines officials a six per cent increase which would have been accepted if the board would also give $1.50 for every bus that stops at more than one school.

The Past Presidents of the Haliburton Legion were honored at the Remembrance Day dinner at the Legion on Friday. A plaque was unveiled with all of their names on it. Among the past presidents at the dinner were Lorne Cooper, Lloyd Coneybeare, Ross Anderson Jr.,

Eldon Sibley, Dr. H.P. Bishop, Don Johnston, Bernard Davidson, Allan S. Cooper, Cliff Dawson and Jack Vickery. For more details see page 3.

Hyland Crest Home

Residents' property put in trust

Minden - Sidney Brown, administrator of Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home said that "a great many notions regarding assets of residents are unfounded."

Mr. Brown told The Echo and Recorder that a lot of people think that Hyland Crest takes everything they have when they are admitted to the home.

He said that the home just holds the property in trust.

"People are under the impression that they lose everything when they come to the home," he said.

In a letter to the residents of Haliburton County, Mr. Brown said that the property is held in trust to assure payment of maintenance so that this charge does not unnecessarily fall on the taxpayer.

"All the local clerks, welfare officers and your own physician have a copy of the application procedure to enter Hyland Crest Home and would be pleased to talk with you regarding the outline of the admission policies, both medical and financial," Mr. Brown said.

In his letter, Mr. Brown said that a home for the aged is not intended as a convalescent home or hospital, but as a home for senior citizens who still enjoy an active life.

"It seems incredible that in 1977 when the government homes for the aged are comfortable and safe, with concerned and caring staffs, that as recently as 1946 they were known as houses of refuge, poor houses or work houses," he said.

Mr. Brown added that the man mostly responsible for the changes was Earl Ludlow.

"In a speech in 1961, Mr. Ludlow said that 26 new homes, with 4,875 beds, were built by the end of 1960. Hyland Crest Home was completed in 1966, due to the hard work of many of our local residents," Mr. Brown said.

He noted that every new home represented an improvement on the previous ones. "In addition to providing for the growing need for bed care and special care, the new homes contain features unheard of in the old 'houses of refuge' - chapels, libraries, auditoriums, hobby rooms, tuck shops, team rooms, barber shops and beauty salons," Mr. Brown said.

Social Planning Council

Lack of interest shown

Haliburton - According to Dave Woodall, a member of the Haliburton County Social Planning Council, a motion will be entertained at the groups next meeting to disband if more interest isn't shown.

In a letter to the editor of The Echo and Recorder, Mr. Woodall said that the Social Planning Council has been very active in the past years initiating social service programs and through general monthly meetings held in various parts of the county, has kept the community at large informed about a broad spectrum of ideas of general interest.

"The council, which is made up of representatives of various community groups, and other interested citizens, is entirely voluntary. It does not receive funding from any organization whether private or governmental. In the past it has done almost all the groundwork for such things as Extendercare and the senior citizens drop-in centre for Haliburton, Mr. Woodall said.

He noted that it has sponsored projects such as a county-wide information centre and meals-on-wheels. Mr. Woodall said it has held half day or full day seminars on drug and alcohol abuse, child abuse and law and order.

"Unfortunately, the Social Planning Council has now reached a low point in its growth and is in danger of folding. The last meetings have been poorly attended and the steering committee (the group that plans the meetings) have run out of fresh ideas and ways to stimulate interest. Many of them have been actively involved for a number of years and now wish to resign. There is no one left to take their place," Mr. Woodall said.

He went on to say in the letter that the chairman will entertain a motion to disband the council unless there is some interest shown in it by the community.

"There are so many things that need to be discussed in terms of whether or not we need such services. There are so many things that are happening around us and the council provides a forum to do so. Some of the ideas that have been discussed in the past, but have yet to be acted on, are day-care, single parents, recreation and child abuse," he said.

Mr. Woodall said that the next meeting of the Social Planning Council will be at Hyland Crest Home in Minden, Nov. 24, at 9:30 a.m. Guest speaker will be

Recent incident

Board looks into problems of students on buses

Haliburton - An incident involving a bus driver and a student has left the driver networking and the Haliburton County Board of Education wondering just what to do with problems on the buses.

Trustee, Len Salvatori, told the board "When a driver hits a person you know the person did something wrong." He suggested that there is something that should be done to punish the person.

Rick Poole, chairman of the board, said that there seems to be a growing problem on the buses.

"In general there needs to be a clean-up on the buses," he said. Mr. Poole sighted the incident in question and said that it is just a case of where a man has lost his temper.

Doug Hodgson said that the accused driver had at one time brought the same student to the principal's office for disciplinary action and the student was assigned a specific seat.

Mr. Hodgson noted that there are a number of parents who won't help by supporting the drivers and teachers.

Trustee LeRoy Eager asked who would be next, indicating that other drivers could be put into a spot where they have to confront one of the students.

Chairman Poole said that the board may possibly have to set up a committee to look into the problems on the school buses to establish more policies.

Mr. Hodgson, emphasizing the problem, noted that the board has had drivers run right off of the bus by students.

Board member is concerned about sizes of staff

Haliburton - Board of Education Trustee, Len Salvatori,

Kinsmen gun draw winners

Haliburton - Sid Cooper of West Guilford won a 3006 rifle in the Kinsmen Club of Haliburton's gun draw.

The draw was held at the Haliburton Legion during the Hunter's Ball on Friday night.

The winner of the double barrel shot gun was David Black of Haliburton.

Money from the draw will be used for various Kinsmen projects.

is concerned with the number of secretaries needed at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Mr. Salvatori said to the board that the high school has four secretaries, compared to one at the elementary school. He noted that the Board of Education office in Haliburton operates with four people to do all of the administration for 2,500 students, the teachers and the operation of the schools.

"I just wonder sometimes what the workloads are," Mr. Salvatori said.

The board decided to hire a secretary for the school but with the agreement that if the school's population drops below 550, the job is discontinued.

Appeal is withdrawn on board representation

Haliburton - The Haliburton County Board of Education was informed last week that Anson, Hindon and Minden has withdrawn its appeal concerning representation on the board.

Reeve, Reg Booth said that the appeal was withdrawn for a number of reasons but his main concern was that a smaller municipality could lose representation if Anson, Hindon and Minden was given more.

Presently Minden has two members on the board. Reeve Booth said that Dysart has one too many members and that Minden should have one more. Dysart has four representatives on the board.

He said that he would be afraid that Snowdon would lose its representation if Minden won the appeal.

The members of the staff at the Dysart Municipal Building have put a great deal of effort into the Dysart Arena Fund. Recently The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder presented a cheque for $350 to the fund.

Darlene Cooper, Darlene Madill, Wayne Wood, Creighton Feir (General Manager of The Echo and Recorder) and Ruth Teasdale were on hand for the presentation.

Don Lloyd, chairman of the Haliburton Recreation Committee, accepts a cheque from the Haliburton Kinsmen Club for $1,500 towards the arena fund. Presenting the cheque was Kinsmen President, John Parish. The arena fund was set up to raise money for the repairs and renovations to the Dysart Community Centre.

From the Chamber

Editor's Note: The following editorial is written by Victor Godin, and is reprinted from Exchange Magazine, published by the Ontario Chamber.

There was a time after World War II when employers waited in line to hire any university graduate. Campus recruiting became such a crowded affair, Ethics Committees had to be organized so that students wouldn't be rushed into anything rash.

How times have changed! Thousands of graduates are emerging from universities with employment expectations that simply won't be met. We have declining enrollment in Ontario high schools and 1,500 people entering high school teacher education courses. Pilots are being trained in community colleges and private airlines are laying them off; some 60 per cent of the students in certain Toronto high schools are dropping out before graduation and we have approximately 125,000 unemployed high school dropouts under 25 years of age. We are inadvertently building a large element of discontented people - educated and uneducated. Predictions of on-campus job riots are being soberly discussed in knowledgeable circles.

Notwithstanding, we have a proposition which goes something like this. "Students should have the right to study medieval pottery in university and the university should not be concerned with their employability after graduation." There is an almost irrational fear in some circles that the university's role as the intellectual crucible of society will be damaged by too great an emphasis on the employment potential of graduates.

It seems, however, that students should also have the right to know the likelihood of obtaining related employment before they commit their best years and thousands of their personal and public dollars. It's been suggested that all university courses could be assigned some sort of a job-value rating. Some would get a zero rating. But the truly gifted student with zeal for knowledge in a particular discipline no matter how obscure, will not be deterred by acquiring objectivity.

Nobody would suggest that the university course structures be re-designed with every fluctuation of the nation's economy. Let universities continue to enrich our cultural requirements in every field of study without regard to economic utility. But let them also cast a planner's eye to the economic realities of the outside world.

Report from Queen's Park

BY MPP JOHN EAKINS

Recently, the Executive Director of the Ontario Hospital Association said that hospitals might have to impose a $5 a day fee on patients and lay off 4,000 medical workers to stay within budget. The Minister of Health has announced that while hospitals may have to close active treatment beds and reduce staff by attrition, he has no intention of introducing deterrent fees. Lay-offs were a possibility. The reason for the hospitals' financial problems is that grants from the province will not keep pace with the rate of inflation, forecast by Ottawa to run at about 6 per cent. In a speech to the OHA, the Minister outlined exactly what they can expect in terms of money until at least 1980: no increase in capital expenditure for two years; further reduction in active treatment beds by increasing outpatient, home and chronic care; and further staff reduction, mainly by attrition.

According to the Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations, many firms offering instant cash for income tax refunds will be driven out of business in Ontario by legislation limiting their profits. The legislation will make it illegal for tax discounters to take more than 5 per cent of the refund owing to a taxpayer, including overpayments of unemployment insurance premiums and Canada Pension Plan contributions. He told the legislature that 45 income tax discounters in the province this year charged up to 50 per cent of refunds. Contravention of the legislation calls for fines of up to $5,000. Unreasonable fees for any service, including completion of the income tax form, are also to be made illegal.

The Provincial Treasurer has announced that some 140,000 of the Province's low-wage earners won't have to pay provincial tax on their incomes next year. Tax exemptions will apply to single people earning up to $5,146, married couples earning up to $7,419 and married couples with two children having a maximum family income of $8,360.

Opposition Members maintain that the public should no longer be asked to have blind faith in the ability of the police to control organized crime, because too little information is available on the extent of such organized crime and police measures to combat it. Pat Reid (Liberal MPP, Rainy River) said the time has come to let the public know how deep the "tentacles of organized crime" go within the province. The Solicitor-General once again rejected the opposition's demands for a public inquiry into this matter, although he admitted that organized crime in Ontario is a major problem in the areas of loansharking, gambling, fraud, investment in legitimate businesses that subsequently operate illegally, drugs and pornography.

Liberal MPP, Robert Nixon, has introduced a Private member's Bill that would make insurance of all motor vehicles in Ontario compulsory. Drivers would no longer be able to pay $100 into the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund to avoid buying insurance. Introducing the Bill, Mr. Nixon alluded to increased use of roads at higher speeds "and occasionally ruinous losses arising out of motor accidents" when the offending driver is not insured.

A caseload crisis in Ontario courts has the potential to undermine the quality of justice, according to the Attorney-General. Significant reforms of the administration of the courts would be required to improve the situation. He also reported that the Government has expanded the use of French in the criminal division of its provincial courts, to provide service to 66 per cent of Ontario's French-speaking residents.

The Attorney-General and Solicitor-General met with high-ranking officers of the criminal investigation and national security divisions of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and were assured that the force is operating within the law in this province. It was acknowledged that the RCMP had investigated the Ontario New Democratic Party, but no details were given.

Stuart Smith questioned the Premier about foreign parent firms who refuse to allow their Canadian subsidiaries to compete in export markets, citing Anaconda Canada Ltd. of Toronto as a firm which may have to close for this season. The Premier indicated he has no intention of setting strict conditions under which companies may establish new plants in Ontario, stating that imposing conditions on investment is not the ideal method of attracting new industry to the Province. However, allowing foreign parent companies to set the rules is surely disastrous.

A Cabinet source said in the early part of the week that the Government would probably not "dare to go through with" legislation to raise the drinking age to 19. Telegrams and letters have simply poured into Queen's Park following reports that Government Members would reject the Private Member's Bill of Remo Mancini, MPP (Liberal, Essex-South) to raise the drinking age. There have been rumors also that even if the Government did not oppose the Bill on second reading, it would be allowed to die on the order paper at the end of the session, leaving the Government to introduce its own legislation next year. The Premier freed Conservative Members to vote according to their conscience, and as a result, the Bill passed approval in principle, and will now go for clause by clause consideration.

Haliburton County woke up to its first substantial snowfall of the year last week. The snowfall caused a few driving problems for residents of the area. The snowfall took the better part of a day before it melted off of the roads.

Haliburton soldiers honored at service by many Haliburton - The cold and snowy weather did not deter the Haliburton County veterans and a large number turned out for the Remembrance Day Service and Parade last Friday.

The service, in the Legion Hall, was conducted by Branch Padre, Norman Healy. President, Mel Robertson, also spoke on Flanders Fields and its relevance today.

At the cenotaph wreaths were laid by a number of private citizens, Mrs. Rose Carnaghan, the Silver Cross Mother; the county; various municipalities, Branch 129 and the Province of Ontario.

The Last Post was sounded, followed by two minutes silence and Pipe Major, Earl Cooper, played the Lament with trumpeter, Don Wright, sounding Reville.

In the evening a dinner was held and among the head table guests were Dysart Reeve, Murray Ferrey, Phyllis Montemiglio, Zone Commander LA F4, Greta Curry, President LA Branch 129, and Douglas and Mrs. Worrall, of Lindsay. Mr. Worrall is commander of Zone F4.

dinner was held later that evening at the Haliburton Branch 129 of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Echo editorials

Bargaining was a negotiation problem

Travelways Bus Lines wanted Haliburton County Board of Education to give it an eight per cent increase.

Somewhere along the line Travelways missed the whole point of bargaining. For a large company that experiences some union negotiations, it must realize that the first price you ask for is not necessarily the one you expect to get.

When the company came in and asked the Haliburton County Board of Education for an eight per cent increase, the board, bargaining in good faith, offered three per cent.

The board must have then figured it was its move because it upped the anti to 4.5 per cent. Travelways still demanded eight per cent.

The board, likely trying to get something going in the bargaining process, came back with another offer, this time the top of their budget, 6 per cent. Travelways came back and said again that they wanted eight per cent. But the company did say that it would take six per cent if $1.50 was paid for every bus that had to stop at more than one school.

Board employee, Jim Leworthy, was quick to point out that this would mean an increase of more than eight per cent.

Perhaps the bus line should have asked for more than it wanted and left some room for bargaining. We would bet that it would have given it a better opportunity of getting what it wanted.

Don't let vandals into public buildings

Persons causing damage to the Dysart Arena shouldn't be admitted to the building, in fact it may be a good idea to lay some charges against them.

The Dysart Arena, like other public buildings in the county, are for the residents of the area.

Last week Don Lloyd, the chairman of the recreation committee, said that damages caused by people are getting too costly. Among the many things that have been done to the building was damage to the new Zamboni ice-making machine and last week a person ripping a sink right off the wall.

The onus is on the users of the arena to see that people causing the damages are caught. If you see someone doing damage to a public building, or a private building for that matter, it wouldn't hurt to get involved and let the police or those in authority know it is happening and just who is doing it.

Arenas and other facilities in the area are for the people to use, not abuse.

Hockey on Wednesday is missed by fans

You never miss it until it is gone certainly is the case with Wednesday night hockey games on television.

Now that the rights to televise the mid-week contests have gone to an independent station that doesn't get its signal this far, a few people have been noting that they miss the games.

Well, we cannot blame the Hamilton television station that won the rights to broadcast the games because they bid the most money. We cannot even blame CTV who had been running the games up until this year.

Where was the CBC though? That is Canada's national network, owned by the people. Why couldn't they have put in a bid for the games?

Not everyone watches hockey games, but we would bet that they draw a fair share of the watching market.

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

In every community in Haliburton County we seem to always have a small minority of people who are against progress in every shape and form. Some will go as far as trying to block any new idea that is proposed. We will agree that progress at times can come too fast and that every new idea might not be in the best interest of everyone. We must realize that this is 1977 and we must move ahead and be prepared for change whenever it comes along. It's fine to sit back and say that we don't need this or we don't need that. In most cases progressive moves that are made in the long run are in the best interests of all. We have seen it time and time again, the small minority who are against progress or change in any form are usually later on willing to accept it. We know that in Minden for instance, some of the people who were against a water system and sanitary sewer system were the first people to hook on. The same can be said in Haliburton. How often have we heard local municipal councils and progressive citizens criticized for trying to move their certain community ahead. When a progressive move is made we all benefit in the end. Try to be a booster not a knocker.

Several roads in the Village of Haliburton are in very bad need of re-paving jobs. We understand that many roads will be paved but the job cannot be done until the sewer installations have been completed. One of the streets in Haliburton that has been in bad need of re-surfacing is York Street. We are glad to report that last week a paving company arrived in town and the road surface is now so smooth that one would think that they were driving on the 401.

We often wonder if the people in Haliburton County who give of their time and efforts in working with the young people receive the credit that they so richly deserve. We particularly are thinking of those who are teaching in our Sunday Schools, youth groups, minor hockey, boy scouts, brownies and guides and other clubs. We salute these people and give them a hearty vote of thanks. It is people like you taking the time off from your regular duties to help make our young people better citizens of the future.

Now that the hockey season is here it is time for Haliburton and area residents to get out and support its sports teams. Hockey has seen better days in the village, not from a point of the type of hockey played, but from the number of people who go out and see the action. The Haliburton Travelways Junior Huskies, who are made up of players from all parts of the county, have iced an excellent team for this 1977-78 season. The Junior Huskies in the past have provided many many evenings of thrilling hockey action and they are ready to do it again this year. It would appear that the crowds are going to be larger this year so why not join this group of hockey fans that will be cheering the Huskies on to victory. Perhaps a few more cheering fans is just what the team needs to bring another hockey championship back to our area. The Huskies have the ability to play good, fast hockey and win a lot of hockey games, but their task will be made that much easier if they know that the fans are behind them.

Last week many of the students from the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School were out of their classrooms and out into the business world. These students were sent out to work in various business establishments here in Haliburton County while others went to various other communities in Ontario. This gives the students an idea how certain businesses are operated and an insight into what they can expect when they leave school and enter the work force. Here at The Echo we were pleased to welcome Jean Mackie of Haliburton, and have her work with us in our business of producing the Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder. Jean had the opportunity to work in most areas of the newspaper and it was a pleasure to have her with us although it was for just a short time.

Every year a business establishment takes stock, or in other terms inventory. This should be the case with all of us as individuals. We should stop every now and again and take stock of ourselves. In other words, we should glance into the mirror and see where we are at and just where we are going. We must also ask ourselves the question "is our community a better place in which to live because we are a part of it?" What we are trying to say is, are we a part of the community or do we just live here? Are we really making an effort to play a part in our community by belonging to organizations and by supporting worthy causes? We must remember that a community is just as good as the people who live in it.

As we travel through Haliburton County we find that more and more, everyone is interested in the economy here and are wondering what we can do to improve it especially during the winter months so that we will have a more balanced year round economy. Most people now are of the opinion that we must always be on the lookout for industry or any other project we can get so that we can put as many people to work as possible. We can't let up, we must continually strive to get everything we can here in Haliburton County. We have been lagging behind some other communities and it's about time that we stopped living in a dream world and started to face the hard facts that we are going to have to fight hard for everything we get.

As we all go out to face another week let's make it a point to stop criticizing other people and go out and see if we can't give someone a hand who has a problem. What a better world it will be and how good it will make you feel.

The Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen will be holding their monthly communion and breakfast at St. George's Anglican Church, Haliburton, this coming Sunday morning, November 20, at 8 a.m. The speaker will be Creighton Feir, Business Manager of the Haliburton County Echo.

Our Pic of the Past this week is a photo of Mrs. Henderson and her two sons from Haliburton, Elzie on the left and Oscar on the right. The photo was taken around 1940 before the two boys went overseas. Elzie was killed in action in Hong Kong. Mrs. Henderson passed away several years ago and Oscar still resides in Haliburton. Our thanks to Bert Howe of Haliburton for submitting this photo.

Social Planning Council is in danger of folding

Editor,
Haliburton Echo & Minden Recorder,
Haliburton, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

As you are probably aware, as are many of your readers, the Haliburton County Social Planning Council has been very active in the past years in initiating social service programs and through general monthly meetings held in various parts of the county, has kept the community-at-large informed about a broad spectrum of ideas of general interest.

The council, which is made up of representatives of various community groups and other interested citizens, is entirely voluntary. It does not receive funding from any organization whether private or governmental. In the past it has done almost all the groundwork for such things as "Extendicare" and the senior citizens Drop-in Centre, in Haliburton. It has sponsored such projects as a county-wide information centre and "Meals-on-Wheels." It has held, half day, or full day seminars on drug and alcohol abuse, child abuse and law and order. At its monthly meetings guest speakers have discussed everything from recreation to the Big Brothers organization.

Unfortunately, the Social Planning Council has now reached a low point in its growth, and is in danger of folding. Its last meetings have been poorly attended, and the steering committee (the group that plans the meetings) have run out of fresh ideas and ways to stimulate interest. Many of them have been actively involved for a number of years and now wish to resign. There is no one left to take their place!

At our next meeting, on November 24th, the chairman will entertain a motion that will disband the council, unless there is some interest shown in it by the community. There are so many things that need to be discussed in terms of whether or not we need such services. There are so many things that are happening around us, and the council provides a forum to do so. So, of the ideas that have been discussed in the past but have yet to be acted on, are day-care, single parents, recreation and child abuse. If these or any other topics are of interest, please become a member. The council needs your help. Without your support the council will cease to exist and a valuable organization that has done so much and has so much left to do, will not be able to do it.

The next meeting of the Haliburton County Social Planning Council will be on November 24th at the Hyland Crest Home in Minden. Coffee will be available at 9:30 and the meeting will start at 10:00 a.m. Our guest speaker will be Mr. Wayne Woods, and his topic will be recreation.

Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Dave Woodall.

Notions unfounded about assets of residents

All the local Clerks, Welfare Officers and your own physician have a copy of the application procedure to enter Hyland Crest Home, and would be pleased to talk with you regarding the outline of the admission policies, both medical and financial.

A great many notions regarding assets of residents are unfounded. Assets are only held in trust for the period he or she is a resident to assure payment of maintenance so that this charge will not unnecessarily fall on the taxpayer.

If you would like more information regarding application to the home, please phone the Administrator, Mr. Sidney Brown, at 286-2140, or come to the home and see what we have to offer.

A home for the aged is not intended as a convalescent home or hospital, but as a home for senior citizens who still enjoy an active life.

It seems incredible that in 1977 when government homes for the aged are comfortable and safe, with concerned and caring staffs, that as recently as 1946 they were known as houses of refuge, poor houses or work houses. The man who was mostly responsible for the change was Mr. Earl Ludlow, who is well known at Hyland Crest.

In a speech in 1961, Mr. Ludlow said that 26 new homes, with 4,875 beds, were built by the end of 1960. Hyland Crest Home was completed in 1966, due to the hard work of many of our residents in local areas.

Every new home represented an improvement on the previous ones. In addition to providing for the growing need for bed care and special care, the new homes contain features unheard of in the old "Houses of Refuge" - chapels, libraries, auditoriums, hobby rooms, tuck shops, tea rooms, barber shops and beauty parlors.

The Haliburton County Council with the Ministry of Community and Social Services are working to keep and improve Hyland Crest Home so that it may be a happy and active home for our residents.

Please plan to visit Hyland Crest so you may see for yourself the wonderful asset we have in Haliburton County. If we may be of any help to you, in any way, please give us a call.

Sidney Brown, Administrator.

Some time ago Dysart et al council received word that little would be done to improve Highway 519 from 530 to Eagle Lake over the next few years.

Perhaps the Ministry of Transportation and Communications should send a few officials up to see what kind of condition the road really is in.

I would doubt that a road in the Toronto area would ever look as bad for as long a period of time. I get to drive on 519 every week, which isn't as bad as driving on it every day and no doubt completely destroying a vehicle.

Not only is the road rough, it also contains, twists, turns and hills, not unlike roads 20 years ago, but holding little similarity to roads in this day and age.

Although I have not gone out and measured the width of the road, I would guess, by the amount of room that a vehicle takes up on its side of the centre line, that the road is a touch narrower than other highways. Perhaps this is a little dangerous on some of the sharp turns.

Maybe the Minister of Transportation, or a few ranking officials in the Ministry, should be put in the back seat of an automobile and driven over the road at 80 kilometres per hour and the trip made about 10 times without stopping. This should just about shake their kidneys loose enough to make them see that major repairs are needed.

MTC didn't exactly get on the job too quickly after the snowfall last week that turned to ice on a few stretches of roadway.

I noticed that the Municipality of Dysart et al got the troubled spots sanded in short order, but the highways people seemed to be quite a few hours late.

I wonder if they were waiting for the sun to melt the ice, which it didn't for about a day.

Icy conditions in November are just as dangerous as in January and no doubt the MTC would have been out earlier had the storm happened in the middle of winter.

Bill is withdrawn MP Scott notes

Bill Scott, MP for Victoria-Haliburton has learned that the government has decided to withdraw Bill C-5, known as the Election Expenses Act.

"This would seem to indicate that the government has taken note of the reservations and problems which existed in the bill as pointed out by the opposition," a release from Mr. Scott said.

This bill had some two hundred paragraphs of amendments to the Election Expenses Act and ran to well over 95 pages in length. Basically, it was an attempt to make changes in the Election Expenses Act which would make the Act more equitable and intelligible to the average Canadian.

"Mr. Scott was approached by Joe Clark, leader of the Conservative Party, and asked to serve on an all-party committee which met over the past two years with the Chief Electoral Officer. As a result of these meetings, the all-party committee made certain recommendations to the government in respect to how the Election Act could be improved," the release said.

Mr. Scott noted, "The vast majority of these recommendations were accepted but for some reason or other the bill, which the government had brought forward, had two glaring problems which the Conservative Party had felt should be opposed. One of these dealt with the question of indexing and the other dealt with the age-old problem of anonymous donations."

Mr. Scott followed the leader of the opposition to expound the Conservative position on this matter.

"As a result of his speech and that of other opposition members, the government decided to cut short their debate on Bill C-5 and it has for the time being been withdrawn," the release stated.

Haliburton Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

Work is continuing on the new Haliburton Curling Arena and great progress is being made. We understand that if all goes well they are hoping to have most of it completed by the end of December of this year.

It is the opinion of many of the local businessmen in Haliburton that they are being called on to give too many donations to what is termed as worthy causes and various organizations. Most businessmen in the community are just struggling to make ends meet and it has come to the point where they are going to have to decide just what and where these donations are going to be given. Most people are of the opinion that just because a person is in business that they have lots of money to throw around. This is not the case and many have had to cut back in certain areas. In some cases the businessmen have been taken and a large sum of money, instead of being left in the community to be spent, went out of the county.

If you have been one of those drivers who never used belts when driving, or only when you felt like it, we strongly advise you to belt-up at all times when you are driving in the future. The Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police are really out checking drivers to make sure they are wearing seat belts so a word to the wise should be sufficient.

We are wondering just how long it's going to take the Ontario Hydro to get around to the lighting problem which now exists on two streets in the village, Park Street and Pine Street. On many occasions the street lights on most parts of these two streets in question are out. Certainly there must be a remedy. Why should this section of the village be left in darkness night after night.

You can take it with you and it's a good idea. What? A supply of minor bits and pieces that frequently break and stop you on the road. If you've got a fan belt, radiator hoses, points, plugs and fuses with you, any service station can install them and get you going. The Ontario Safety League reminds you that you won't always be able to get a special hose or belt readily on a weekend.

One thing that is badly needed in Haliburton is a Businessmen's Association. Not only could they do more for the community in many different ways, but most of them feel that they must band together in a common cause to talk over such matters as store hours, the question of donations and just what things they are not going to support financially and to talk over what can be done about this credit situation which is hounding most businessmen in this day and age. Many other matters will come up that should be looked into. It is our opinion that the businessmen should have a Santa Claus parade with floats, marching units and bands. In other words, let's put on a real parade that will draw people in from all parts of the county. It can be done with the proper organization and it would cost each merchant very little money. Other villages of our size are doing it, so why can't we.

Some people are of the opinion that sports in our local schools are a waste of time and money. We do not agree. We are always pleased to see the students participating in such sports as hockey, skating, football, softball, badminton, volleyball or what have you. Let's not take time sports out of our schools or it will be a step backwards. Taking the students from Victoria Street School to the arena every week is a splendid idea and we would like to see more of it.

This is the time of year that many citizens of Haliburton have left or are thinking of leaving for the sunny south to enjoy the sun while the rest of us are left to shovel the snow which will soon be on its way. We hope they are enjoying themselves and have a good winter and we'll be looking for them back in the spring.

Stedman's in Haliburton will be holding their annual Christmas Shopping Party this coming Tuesday evening, November 22, from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served and a 10 per cent discount will be given on cash or credit purchases for this night only.

We are pleased to note that Larry Warden has kindly donated to the Haliburton Kinsmen Club a set of professionally painted wooden signs which will be erected to direct visitors to the Harburn Natural Wells.

Public skating has resumed every Sunday afternoon at the Haliburton arena and good crowds are turning out to skate and also to get some exercise. We would like to see more adults in attendance at these Sunday afternoon sessions.

We always enjoy seeing and reading "Letters to the Editor" in our newspaper. If you would like to comment on some local issue why not drop us a letter. We are quite sure that our readers would enjoy reading about opinions on matters that concern all of us.

The Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship International publish a monthly magazine called "Voice." If you are in many of the business places in the county you will see these magazines on counters, stating that they are free, and take one. Don't miss picking one up each and every month as the stories are very interesting and tell how peoples lives have been changed. We have a Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship here, known as the Haliburton Hyland Chapter, which meets the third Saturday evening of each month at Deer Lodge. Make it a point to attend one or more of these meetings and it could change your life.

REGINA IN PIONEER DAYS

Regina in 1911 was not much like it is today. There were no trucks and all the draying and other work was done by horses. Not only were there many horses in the city, but many horses came in from the country every day. There were hitching rails in front of all the stores on Railway Avenue and Broad Street. On the south side of Railway Avenue from Cornwall Street to Albert Street there was a string of big signboards. We used to tie our horses up behind those signs to be out of the wind. There was a livery barn about where the Sherwood Municipal Office now stands, and others on the east side of Broad Street where we would put our horses when the weather was bad.

There was a crossing over the railway tracks on Hamilton Street and there were no subways. They began to build the Albert Street subway in the fall of 1910, but they did not get it finished and in the spring of 1911 I had quite an experience there.

As I have mentioned before father was working in the city and I was working on a farm. One Sunday the boss let me have a horse and cart to go in to visit my father. The trail from the farm brought me to the corner of Albert Street and Dwyer Avenue. The city was strange to me. I knew that father was boarding on the south side of the tracks, but I did not know where to get across the tracks. I drove south on Albert and I saw this hole under the railway tracks. There was plenty of room to go under but I did not know then about Regina mud. I headed the horse into the unfinished subway and I soon found myself in trouble. The horse got down in the mud and could go no farther. I had to get out and unhitch her and push the cart back to be able to get the horse up. Then I had to turn the cart around and hitch the horse up again. Any of you who have experienced Regina mud will know what a job I had and the kind of mess I was in by the time I got out. I don't remember now just where I got across the tracks that day.

1911 was the year that they put the first street cars on Eleventh Avenue. Our horses were frightened enough of the automobiles and they were terrified of the street cars. However, we managed to control them without any accidents.

In the spring, after the snow melted, the streets were a mess with horse manure. The city had men and teams hauling it away.

That summer the boss gave us all a holiday to attend the Regina Exhibition. He drove us to the Fair Grounds and told us where to meet him when the grandstand show was over. On the midway, in those days, there were no microphones or loud speakers trying to outdo each other in noise. Each side show had a live talent show outside the tent, usually a good fiddler and dancers. All was peace and quiet so different from the noise of the midway of today. The big steam engines and threshing outfits were at their zenith. They had the biggest steamers belted up to the largest separators and each company was doing all kinds of stunts with them to prove their machine was the best. One company was feeding a pine board into their separator to demonstrate how strong the cylinder teeth were. Another company had a forge set up to make a straight razor out of a cylinder tooth. He would fashion the razor in the forge, temper it, sharpen it, put some lather on his face and shave himself with the razor he had made. He also offered to shave any of the onlookers.

I tried to make a razor out of a cylinder tooth one time, but I couldn't get it tempered hard enough to hold an edge for more than half a shave. Of course, there were no safety razors or electric ones then. If you wanted to shave you had to use a straight razor.

At that time there were no buildings west of Albert St. between there and the exhibition grounds. The machine companies used this trip of open prairie to try out their big sod breaking outfits on. They had the biggest breaking outfits made demonstrating on that strip of ground.

There were a few gasoline outfits, mostly Rumleys, Hart Patts and International. They were new and the steam men looked down their noses at the noisy things. Little did they know that before long gasoline would replace the steam power.

The small gasoline engines were just appearing. I remember one exhibit where they had a display of small engines from about three

On November 4th at the high school it was Sadie Hawkins day. There were a great many dressed up and it was really funny to walk into the class and see them dressed up. That night there was a dance held in the gym at the school and a DJ from Lindsay supplied the music. There was a good turnout and the student's council had it well organized.

On November 8 our girls basketball team hosted the girls from L.C.V.I. I don't have the scores but the results are Midgets and Seniors lost, the Juniors won, and this win let them go into the semi-finals. This game will be played on November 15 but the location I don't know.

As Friday, November 11, was a holiday for the school, we held our Remembrance Day service on Wed., Nov. 9. The service was conducted by Miss Phillips and some of her grade 13 students, with the senior band and the Glee Club helping out. Lyn Finlay and Peter Neville placed the wreath on Friday for the school.

We're not dead yet

This has been the age of the young. Rock music, drugs, dropouts, dirty denim, unisex, swinging singles, discos, and now punk rock. You name it and we've been assaulted by it.

It all began with the Beatles, I reckon, this adulation of youth. And now it's The Fonz, a portrayal of a young hood, that gets the headlines.

To be over 40, in the last couple of decades, has been just this side of being dead, as the media, the entertainment world, and business, salivated over youth.

Well, it's kind of nice to see that a lot of the old timers are still in there pitching, despite the deluge of juvenilia.

It was a bit of a jolt to hear of the sudden death of Bing Crosby recently, at age 74. But the Old Crooner was still giving some class to the shoddy world of show biz right up to the end.

Octogenarian John Diefenbaker has published another book of his memoirs. Haven't read it yet, but it's said to be as delightfully malicious and wrong-headed as the first volumes.

Morley Callaghan, well into his 70s, recently published a new novel, to critical acclaim. Callaghan, one of our finest writers, isn't getting older, he's getting better. Ignored or sneered at for years by fellow Canadians, he just kept hacking away at his vocation of being a first-class writer.

Just finished a novel, The Intruders, by Hugh Garner, and although parts of it are bad, when the dialogue becomes polemical, he still has that sure touch of realism, an ear for the talk of ordinary people, and the ability to tell a good story. Garner is no chicken either. Must be in his 60s, about half way.

Scott Young, another cracking good writer, has abandoned a daily column of trivia, with which even he was becoming bored, and has gone back to writing what he does best — honest sports stories. He's over 60.

Pierre Trudeau is not yet an ancient combattant, but he had his 58th recently, and is certainly no pushover for the young blood-thirsty wolves in the political pack, as anyone who watched the opening of Parliament could see.

And how about the Queen. She is no teenager, and she's beginning to show it, but when it comes to poise and grace and charm, very few of the young chicks can hold a candle to her.

One of my colleagues, a former officer in the German Army, is into his 60s, but could out-ski, out-swim, and out-walk most of the staff members 30 years younger.

I have another friend, about 70, who could out-think, out-drink, and out-swear 98 per cent of men in their 20s.

My father-in-law was a little disappointed to learn this year that a by-law had been passed stating that retirement was compulsory at 65, and he'd lose one of his jobs.

He's 85 and is quite bewildered when he hears talk of young fellas in their early 60s who can hardly wait to retire.

Played golf with an old, gray-haired geezer a few weeks ago. He is retired, but only because of a heavy heart attack. He plays 18 holes a day and then knocks back a few whiskeys before dinner. His score was 88, mine was 108. He swims all summer and bowls twice a week in the winter, as well as working like a navy around his home.

I don't really know what I'm getting at here. Maybe I'm just sick of the youth-worship cult to which we've all been exposed (including the young) for far too long.

Maybe I'm tired of living on a continent and in a culture in which the very people who were the salt of this country's earth are shuffled off, without honor and without shame, into places that are called things like Sunset Rest, Final Heaven — everything but Last Chance Saloon.

Maybe I'm fed up with the interminable excuses, sloppy service and half-assed work we receive from so many young people whose grandparents and parents gave full measure, and believed in such hoary adages as "A job worth doing is worth doing well."

I sometimes wonder why we are so eager, in this country, to slough off the wealth of experience and wisdom our elders have to offer in our society.

Why aren't the older tradesmen used as teachers, at a decent remuneration, to pass on their skills to the half-baked young tradesmen we so often encounter when we want a job done?

There is a crying need for more day-care centres in this country. Why aren't they filled with volunteer grannies, who could love and pet and teach the children, as only they do so well?

Nope. It's easier to sweep them under the carpet: into lonely rooming houses, nursing homes, senior citizens apartments, or, in extreme cases, the Senate.

We don't want to see wrinkles and white hair and trembling hands or mouths. We want everything to be the way it is on TV.

Well, don't try to shuffle this ole boy off, when the time comes. I intend to go right on being arbitrary and obnoxious.

Unless I'm offered a seat in the Senate.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1977 by The Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Our church sent the following newsletter to all its members:

NO-COP-OUT SUNDAY

To make it possible for everybody to attend church next Sunday:

Cots will be placed in the back for those who say Sunday is the only day they can sleep.

Blankets will be provided for those who say the church is too cold.

Fans will be provided for those who say the church is too hot.

We will have hearing aids for those who say the minister talks too soft—and cotton for those who say he talks too loud—and alarm clocks for those who say he talks too long!

Calculators will be available for those who enjoy counting the hypocrites present.

Finally, the sanctuary will be decorated with both Christmas poinsettias and Easter lilies for those who have never seen a church without them.

YOUR MIAMI FAN

DEAR FAN: Thanks for a dandy day-brightener.

DEAR ABBY: You have helped so many minority groups by educating the public, will you please help another?

We are the blind who use white canes to travel, and by travel, I mean go to the mailbox, grocery store, pharmacy and to work.

Please tell the driving public that some states have a white cane law, which states: "When a person with a white cane steps off the curb, traffic in ALL DIRECTIONS must stop until that person regains a curb. Motorists who violate this law are guilty of a misdemeanor."

Even if it were not a law, compassion and courtesy should prevail.

Albany, N.Y., is a training center for the blind. They are trying to develop confidence in the sightless to go about alone, but some of the motorists here either don't know the law or choose to ignore it. Please use my letter, Abby, as I am afraid to go out alone.

SIGHTLESS IN ALBANY

DEAR SIGHTLESS: And speaking of consideration for the blind, orchids to Robert Meyer of the Yankee Silversmith Inn in Wallingford, Conn., for providing duplicate menus in BRAILLE!

DEAR ABBY: Recently you had a letter in your column from HEARTSICK GRANNY whose daughter wants to give one of a pair of twin infants away because she was born with a club foot and a cleft palate, which they couldn't afford to correct.

Abby, the Shriners maintain 22 hospitals for crippled children. Their services are FREE, regardless of color, creed or religion.

I hope it's not too late to get this information to that family.

K.O., BURLINGAME, CAL.

DEAR K.O.: Thank you and the hundreds of others who recommended the Shrine Hospitals. And don't forget the National Foundation-March of Dimes. Their thing is diagnosing, treating and preventing birth defects, as well as family planning and genetic counseling.

"WEE FEATHERED MITE"

Who's heard the Laverock's lonely song?
Whose pen would not take fire?
Could ever doubt such notes belong
With some celestial choir.

Ah, yes, wee songster feathered mite,
What talent you employ!
Somewhere out there beyond my sight
Emitting so much joy.

Rising on a dizzy spiral
Into that great remote,
Trilling sweetly, lyrical,
Your tiny throbbing throat.

Spills its heart in wildest fervour,
With notes in endless chase
To fill that void, Oh vain endeavour,
Eternity and space.

Gems of Truth

"Give Ye Them To Eat"

In the Gospel of Mark we are given an accurate account of the Lord Jesus being the "Mighty Worker." Here we find "deeds" rather than just words befitting to the purpose of Jesus coming to earth as Jehovah's "Servant-Branch." Zec. 3:8, Isaiah 42:1-21, Phil. 2:5-8.

Mark records for us the two miraculous feedings of a multitude who followed Jesus days on end. The spiritual hunger for "truth" pervaded those who were made the recipients of the blessing bestowed upon them for their guest. The Servant used what was on hand, used the help of His faithful disciples to carry out the "compassion" he had for the multitude. In that multitude each one of us are seen of Him today. He knows our every need, every heart-cry, every sorrow, and He longs to Shepherd such. To Him such are redeemable souls and we need to be filled with the same compassion that moved Jesus to action. This compassion for the multitude cannot be worked up by fleshly enthusiasm, it comes from and through the indwelling Holy Spirit in the children of God. Rom. 5:5.

The second feeding of the multitude as recorded in Mark 8:1-9 is filled with incidents both before and after the feeding, that are of intense interest to us today. The crowd had for the most part at least, an earnest craving for spiritual food. In their eagerness to satisfy the longing of their heart, they forgot about their bodily needs. Not so Jesus, He did not forget, love is quick to see need and give a helping hand. The hungry multitude, which is ever the Lord's concern, the abundant supply, all have their counterpart in human life, at all times and everywhere. All around us are men and women who are craving satisfaction, they are restless, excitable, unhappy, possessing a deep soul hunger, though they may not know it. There is something they have not got and know not where to find it. They see in the true believer the peace and satisfaction which they desire, but are unwilling to forsake their evil ways and cast their lot upon the Burden-Bearer who is longing to meet their deepest need. But is it not a most solemn thought that in the ordinary course of God's providence human needs must be met by "human agents." "Give ye them to eat."

Mark tells us that when the miraculous had been performed, "the Pharisees came forth" to question our Lord and to seek a sign. Mark 8:11-12. Their purpose was to discredit that which had been done and the ordinary or common set aside. Let Jesus cause some spectacular phenomenon to take place such as those in the time of Moses (Ps. 78:23-24) or like Joshua (Josh. 10:13-14) or Elijah (Kings 18:38, 11 Kings 1:10) and then they would believe on Him. What a picture of our present running to and fro, ever reaching out for the excitable and spectacular! Jesus saw in this attitude of sign-seeking the temper of the "whole generation." Mark 8:38. It caused Him to "sigh deeply in His Spirit." 8:12. His whole ministry was full of signs, of unfeigned evidences of His Deity, but pride, prejudices, self-interests, malice blinded the so-called leaders to the true Person and Nature of the Servant-Son. People in our day are much the same. "Why do you not show us a convincing sign?" Many would like to have some undeniable proof of the spiritual world. Questions like this are common, "Why does not God prove His existence by cutting off cruel dictators?" But a demonstration of such a kind would not change the unbelieving heart. The wonder would soon pass and men would clamor for more. Jesus refused to give a sign. Math. 12:38-42.

No narrative in Mark is more important than the confession of Peter in 8:27-29. It is the climax of all believing. The past incidents led up to this. The One whom they were following was truly the Son of God. Three vital questions men have to answer concern their "attitude" to the Lord Jesus Christ. (1) "What think ye of Christ?" Math. 22:42. (2) "Whom say ye that I am?" Mark 8:29. (3)

"What shall I do then with Jesus?" Math. 27:22. The answer that Peter gave is the only adequate one. The belief in the "Divinity of our Lord" is the very essence of true faith. Apart from this, "faith is spurious!" The correct faith is that we believe and confess that the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God is God and Man, perfect God and perfect man, not two, but one Christ. Peter saw in Him a blasphemer who must be destroyed. Peter's faith proved to be the correct one as the Book of Acts so vividly describes. The true Church agrees wholeheartedly with the confession of Peter "Thou art the Son of God" Math. 16:13-16, Acts 2:37-41.

The Word of God

In our last article we set before you a number of passages from the Old Testament that pictured the conditional nature of the "land promise" to Israel (i.e. Joshua 23:11-16; Deuteronomy 6:15; 7:4; 8:19-20; 28:1-2 and Leviticus 26).

The prominence of the nation attained under David and Solomon was soon to dwindle into an apostasy that would see the end of prosperity and the beginning of captivity.

It was the Northern Kingdom (Israel) that fell first to the forces of Shalmaneser, the Assyrian King (2 Kings 17:3) about 720 B.C. They fell because they had followed the steps of Jeroboam, the man that the Bible says "made Israel sin". Their failure to keep up their part of the covenant (being faithful to God) resulted in their banishment from the land that God had given them.

The story of the Southern Kingdom (Judah) is not much better. It was about 586 B.C. when Nebuchadnezzar, the Babylonian King, came and took them away into a captivity that would last close to 70 years. Once more we see that the failure to keep the covenant on their part resulted in their removal from the land.

We have drawn these facts to your attention in order that you might realize that God fulfilled the promise concerning land that He had given through Abraham. Since Israel had broken the covenant it was now finished. However, we find that a new promise was given, a promise not to be confused with the first given through Abraham. This promise was one of Looking exotic with its smooth, satiny, purple skin and egg shape, eggplant is a vegetable to admire—and to use in many ways. Choose a firm, heavy, unblemished eggplant of between 3 1/2 inches in diameter. One medium eggplant (about 1 1/2 lbs.) serves 6.

Eggplant

Prepare eggplant immediately before cooking because the flesh discolors quickly. Cut off green stem end and slice with a stainless steel knife. Squeeze lemon juice over raw cubes or slices, or sprinkle salt between stacked slices.

Eggplants may be served in casseroles, touch as ratatouille or in a creole sauce. It may be scalloped, broiled and topped with cheese, creamed mushrooms, or sour cream. Half each slice of eggplant, with or without special coating, can be deep-fried or pan-fried in 3 to 8 minutes. Or bread and sauté slices in olive oil, then cook with tomato paste. Eggplant may be halved and broiled or baked, plain or with meat filling (such as for moussaka). Try chopped and cooled baked eggplant in a salad with tomatoes, onions, garlic, and dark bread croutons.

County sports

BY JIM BADGLEY

I for one believe that equipment in hockey has gone one step too far. Perhaps it has even gone two or three steps too far.

Watching the Leafs try their luck with the Montreal Canadiens Saturday night, as I would suspect that most good sports fans did, I couldn't help but marvel at the ability of Guy Lafleur. Not just his ability at scoring goals (three in that game) but his ability not to get hurt by the opposition.

A hockey player of the stature of Lafleur, if he doesn't keep his head up, will take a lot of cheap shots. But Guy Lafleur doesn't take any cheap shots. Or at least, he didn't take any cheap shots handed out by the Leafs.

Lafleur, with what appeared to be half of the opposition taking runs at him, didn't get hurt last night, or seldom gets injured playing hockey.

His great assets as a hockey player are many, great skater, super shot, excellent rusher and one could go on and on but he also has the ability to play the entire game with his head up.

Lafleur doesn't wear a helmet.

The other day while at a minor hockey game in Haliburton County I noticed that the players have an added feature on their equipment. It is a mask that fits onto the helmets.

I played minor hockey in the days that helmets became compulsory and if I was playing hockey today I would likely wear a helmet. Although I am not sure that these ones that resemble football helmets are exactly the answer.

The face mask though just means that the minor hockey players head is completely protected and he (or she) just has another weapon to use on the opposition.

If you watch a good minor hockey league player now, when he goes into the corner, or races for a loose puck, all he has to do is put his head down and charge recklessly.

If the opposing player gets hit, then that is just part of the game, to have a helmet driven into your stomach. For those of you who have watched football for any length of time, it doesn't take long to realize that for a number of players, their helmets are more of a weapon than protection.

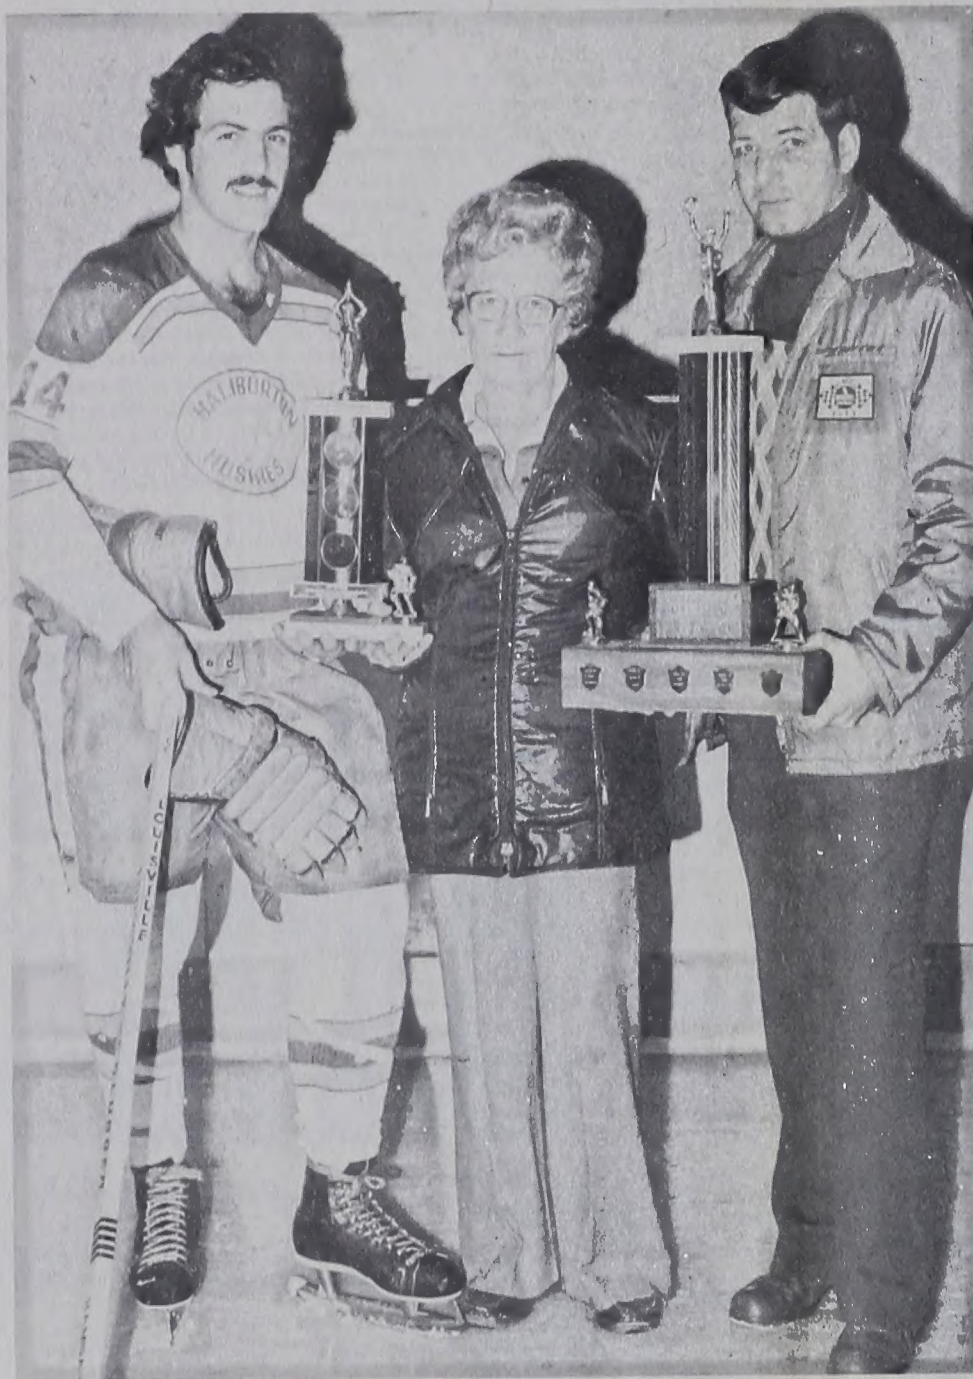

In Saturday night's Toronto, Montreal game, there was also a fight between Guy LaPointe, who doesn't wear a helmet, and Tiger Williams, who does. Williams just had to put his head down and swing and there would be little chance of him getting hurt.

It did my heart well to see LaPointe pick Williams up, put him on his backside on the ice and then proceed to get three or four good shots in.

LaPointe is a lot bigger man than Williams, but Williams took the first swing (at least he took the first swing we saw on television).

I wonder just how much of a fight that would have been had Williams not had the helmet for protection?

Line gets 9 points

Colborne downs Haliburton 5-4

Colborne - The Haliburton Travelways Huskies found Colborne's high scoring line of Marty Kernaghan and Pete and Ian Williams just a little too much to handle and ended up on the losing end of a 5-4 count. The game was played Wednesday in Colborne.

The line picked up a total of nine points in the contest. Joe Roberts was the big man for Haliburton getting three assists.

Andy Salvatori gave The Huskies a 1-0 lead at 2:01 of the first period on a play from Roberts and Tim Oram.

Kernaghan evened the count at 17:47 of the opening frame when he connected from Pete and Ian Williams.

Colborne went ahead at 4:05 of the second period on a goal by Trevor McBride from Pete and Ian Williams.

Mark MacDuff put Haliburton back in the game with a goal at 17:08 when he was set up by Roberts.

Jay Wooton, who suffered a couple of hard checks in the game, evened the score at 18:37 on a play from Randy Barras.

Colborne went back into the lead at 5:12 of the third period when Garth Roblin scored from Trevor McBride.

Pete Williams scored the eventual winner at 13:30 of the final frame on a play from Ian Williams.

Barry Shaw gave Haliburton a little bit of hope with 3:38 remaining in the game, with an assist going to Roberts.

Colborne took 15 penalties, including a match penalty to Glen Scriver.

Midgets end 3 year jinx down Ops

Haliburton - The Haliburton Beaconbrook Midgets broke a three year jinx and defeated Ops Centre twice on the weekend.

The midgets came up with a 9-0 win Saturday night in the game played at the Dysart Arena and won 2-0 Sunday night. Graig Wood registered both shutouts.

Haliburton got untracked early in the first period when Dave Dodd scored from Ed Roberts at 4:46.

Butch Manary put Haliburton ahead 2-0 just 33 seconds later with an unassisted goal.

Haliburton's final goal for the first period came with 6:47 to play with Mike Rae scoring unassisted.

Rae put Haliburton ahead 4-0 at 4:07 of the second period with a goal from Len Hodgson.

Just over one minute later Manary connected from Mike Iles and Ken Wyllie to make the score 5-0.

Manary picked up his hat-trick just two minutes later on another play from Wyllie and Iles.

Kevin O'Hara put Haliburton ahead 7-0 before the end of the period on a play from Bob Manary with 5:11 remaining.

It took Haliburton eight minutes to get going again in the third period but the club picked up two more goals.

Philip Smith scored from Ed Roberts with 6:59 remaining and Hodgson scored unassisted with 1:42 remaining to round out the scoring.

A total of 19 penalties were called in the game with 14 going to Ops.

In Ops on Sunday, Haliburton got one goal in the first period and one in the second to down the home club.

Butch Manary scored at 8:44 of the opening frame from Hodgson and Mike Iles scored at 6:26 of the second period from Manary.

A total of 23 penalties were called in the game with 12 going to Ops Centre.

The Haliburton Beaconbrook Midgets will see action again Saturday night at home when they take on Cammington in a game that starts at 8:30 p.m.

The Midgets will travel to Canington next Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

Midgets tie

Minden - Casey Cox and Tim Davies scored to help the Minden Midgets to a tie with Sunderland in OMHA action last week.

The game ended 2-2. In other action Minden Atoms downed Sunderland 3-0.

A number of Haliburton residents participated in a race to get some exercise Sunday. The race went from the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School to the Allsaw Flats. No indication was given as to who ended up winning the event but one would bet that the participants got their share of exercise.

The Minden Atoms came up with a win on Saturday in their game with Little Britain. The Atoms have been working to keep the position of top team in the league, which they obtained with a good club last year.

Bob Colliver rink is second in Division 4

Peterborough - The Bob Colliver rink, of Haliburton, posted a record of six wins and two losses to finish second to the Charlie Gilmour rink of Lindsay in the Division 4 All Star League.

Other members of the rink were Clark Bailey (vice), Cec Bailey and Brent Colliver (second) and Bill Everson (lead).

Dick McLean's rink of Gary Bailey, Murray Kuno and Grant Wallace, finished with a record of three wins and five losses, just missing the playoffs.

Both local teams did extremely well in the top competition because this was the first curling of the year as the Haliburton Curling Club is not yet completed and the other curling clubs have been active for the past year.

The Haliburton Curling Club hopes to be in operation near mid-December. With this late start and the dates of some of the division competitions being early in the season, it is hoped that members interested in entering teams in the following competition notify Bob Colliver at 457-2547 by the following dates so club playdowns may be arranged wherever possible. Seniors (Bancroft) entry deadline Dec. 1, dates Dec. 16, 17 and 18; Seagram Mixed (Beaverton) entry deadline Dec. 15, dates Jan. 6, 7 and 8; British Consols (Peterborough Golf) entry deadline Dec. 22, dates Jan. 13, 14 and 15.

Monte Carlo

The evolution of beauty.

In past years, people drove Monte Carlo because it was unique. In 1978, Monte Carlo has been redesigned to be trim, timely, and even more beautiful.

We've reduced Monte Carlo's total weight by 780 pounds and given you more space inside. Compared with last year, you get more front and rear seat leg room, more hip room, and more head room. At 16 cu. ft., the trunk is bigger. A special dual mode ventilation system delivers outside air to the back seat under all driving conditions.

Now Monte Carlo is even more of a road car. It has its own special tires and suspension geometry, including front and rear stabilizer bars. Thanks to reduced overhang and a shortened turning diameter than the 1977 model, you get agility, manoeuvrability and parking ease. With better fuel efficiency, new corrosion protection, and a new 3.8 litre V-6 standard engine, Monte Carlo remains unique for '78. (Monte Carlo fuel economy: 36 km/g city, 51 km/g highway (22 mpg city, 32 mpg highway) for a 2-bbl., 3.8 litre (231 cu. in.) V-6 engine with available automatic transmission and 2.56 axle ratio). You have to drive it to believe it. See what's new today in a Chevrolet.

TRAIL COUNCIL REPORT RELEASED

It was announced recently that the final report of the Ontario Trails Council, based on a two year study of recreational trail requirements in this province, would be released to the public on Nov. 15. On that day, The Honourable Frank Miller, the Minister of Natural Resources, and Mr. William Coates, Council Chairman, meet with the press at Queen's Park. By the time you read this, excerpts from the report should have appeared in the daily newspapers.

As a snowmobile club member, I am anxious to learn what the council is recommending for my recreation. There is little doubt that the greatest input to the council came from snowmobile organizations. If we, the snowmobilers of Ontario, have presented a clear picture of our needs and have offered viable solutions to our problems, then we have nothing to fear from the Trail Council's report. I await its release with optimism.

Another long and arduous drive is over. This time it was Leamington in Southwestern Ontario a little this side of Windsor. Last month it was down East to Cornwall. Why so much travelling?

The directors of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs have pledged to work on behalf of all snowmobilers in the province. To keep the operation going smoothly and with proper direction to the various committees within the organization, full directors meetings are held monthly. Whenever feasible these are held in a central area, however, whenever requests come in to hold a meeting with clubs in a specific region, we do our best to honor them. Last year, for example, the January meeting came to Haliburton.

Our reasons for going to Cornwall and later to Leamington are somewhat different. In Eastern Ontario snowmobilers are well organized, with the Seaway Valley Snowmobile Association providing excellent leadership and numerous small clubs enthusiastically supporting the O.F.S.C. We went there to offer our gratitude, our encouragement and our assurances of a continuing effort on their behalf. At the open session of our meeting in Cornwall nearly 300 people were present.

Leamington, on the other hand, is in an area where clubs are not so well organized, snow comes and goes, and trails are almost non-existent. It is an area that was in need of special attention. Our nearest director lived a hundred miles away, at London, and was unable, alone, to adequately cover the extreme Southwestern region. He called for our help and got it. By contrast, the turnout to the open session was a meager nineteen, but all were interested snowmobilers and collectively represented three widely separated clubs. The meeting was termed a complete success.

Even as far away as Leamington I am being asked about resort facilities for weekend snowmobilers at Haliburton. As a director in the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association and Vice President of the O.F.S.C., I hesitate to recommend one establishment over another, therefore my reply is "Yes, we have excellent facilities. Let us know what you are looking for and we'll send several brochures." These are sent with an accompanying letter which states simply which establishments, among those that meet the requirements as ascertained from the request, are Commercial Members of the HCSA and/or Associate members of the O.F.S.C.

While I have no desire to act as anyone's booking agent a small supply of your brochures would make it easier to reply to such requests. And a membership in the above mentioned organizations is well worth your consideration.

Full Gospel elects new executive

Haliburton - The Haliburton Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen elected a new executive for the coming year.

President is Peter Vanderwal, Vice-President, Blaine Tunall, Secretary is Darrell Stamp and Treasurer, Bob Woodcock.

The Full Gospel Businessmen is an organization that is interdenominational and has three main goals.

The purpose of this organization is "To reach men everywhere for Jesus Christ; provide a basis of fellowship among men; to bring about a greater measure of unity and spirit of harmony in the Body of Christ."

The principle of the group is "To attract men of similar social, cultural, or business interests to chapter meetings and to share in testimony what God has done in men's lives.

The program is "Monthly chapter meetings, weekly luncheons and breakfasts, advances (or retreats), rally days and conventions."

The Haliburton chapter is two and a half years old and now has 23 members.

Full Gospel Businessmen started in California 24 years ago.

It was noted that the Haliburton chapter is unique because of the small population it has to draw from.

The chapter has a regular dinner meeting on the third Saturday of every month at Deer Lodge.

William Morton, executive director of a unique residential treatment centre for teenagers will be the guest speaker at this month's meeting which begins at 7 p.m. Persons interested in attending can do so.

Subs are sunk by Board of Education

Haliburton - Submarine sandwiches will not be sold in Haliburton County schools on a regular basis at lunch.

The Haliburton County Board of Education told Kevin Harris of K & D Subs in Minden that he could approach the principals of schools to discuss selling them at functions like dances but the submarines could not be sold in cafeterias.

Mr. Harris told the board about the quality of the sandwiches and that they contain a great deal of nutritional value.

Trustee, Dorothy Way, said that she is afraid the price of meals would go up in the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School cafeteria.

She noted that the board has been working to keep the prices down.

Director of Education, Doug Hodgson, said that the cafeteria presently operates on volume and the money taken in only pays for the food.

He said that presently the taxpayers subsidize the cafeteria because the staff and equipment is all paid for by the Board of Education.

"The variety of food would be good but you would be putting your other business in jeopardy," he said.

Trustee, Len Salvatori, said that the board should not disturb a good thing and suggested that the board pass a motion not allowing the sandwiches in the school.

Need for 23 geared to income housing units

Haliburton - The Ministry of Housing has notified Dysart et al council that there is a need for 23 geared to income family housing units in the municipality.

The council received a letter from the Ministry at its regular meeting on Monday.

Council passed a resolution that stated, "That the Ministry of Housing through Ontario Housing Corporation be requested to provide 23 units for families on a rent-geared-to-income basis, such rental accommodation to be made available through the direct construction program and/or the private assisted rental program and/or one of the approaches available for rent supplement accommodation; and further that the Township of Dysart et al hereby undertakes and agrees to contribute 7.5 per cent of any annual loss arising from the operation of the above units."

A study in 1975 indicated a need for 13 units.

College hopes to increase range in Haliburton area

An academic upgrading course for adults in the Haliburton and Minden areas who wish to enter commercial or technical skill courses at a community college is the latest in a series of recent developments aimed at increasing the range of services offered by Sir Sandford Fleming College in that region.

David Gray, the Campus principal with overall responsibility for adult education at Sir Sandford, said continuing education officer, Barbara Bolin, was recently named director of continuous learning for Haliburton County, reflecting increasing college involvement in adult education there.

"Whenever possible, we hope to bring all aspects of all adult programs into the northern section of the college community," he said.

The newest course will begin in January, and involve a maximum of 20 residents in a full-time day program for a period of 12 weeks.

Mr. Gray said it is a pilot project funded by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission (formerly Canada Manpower), and students will be selected by the Commission.

He added that the college has increased its activity in several other adult education fields in the Haliburton and Minden areas, in addition to the established summer and fall courses of the college-operated Haliburton School of Fine Arts and an expanded continuing education evening program which this fall increased in registration to 172 from 101 in the fall of 1976.

One of these new fields involves the administration of the Ontario Center Action Program (O.C.A.P.), which allows unemployed youth between the ages of 16 and 24 to gain work experience while being paid an allowance by the Ontario government. Mr. Gray said there currently are 18 persons placed under O.C.A.P. in the private sector there, and one in the public service sector.

The college is also active in preparing and supervising training plans for employers involved in on-the-job training through the federal Canada Manpower Industrial Training Plan and in producing employee training courses through the provincially-sponsored Training in Business and Industry program.

Mr. Gray said the college is co-operating closely with the outreach office of the Employment and Immigration Commission regarding current and future training needs of Haliburton County residents.

He noted also that the original Haliburton Highlands School of Fine Arts advisory board has been expanded to include a wider group of community interests and now meets monthly to consider the full range of adult education services offered by Sir Sandford.

This group includes representatives from the college board of governors, the Guild of Fine Arts, the Haliburton County Board of Education, the general community, and college staff.

Eakins and task force hold series of meetings

John Eakins, MPP Victoria-Haliburton, and the Liberal caucus task force he heads on the state of tourism will be holding the first in a series of meetings today in Owen Sound.

According to a news release from the Liberal Party, "The task force will be meeting with concerned citizen groups throughout the province in order to obtain a grass roots idea of how the tourist industry can be better served at Queen's Park."

The task force will consult with municipalities, Chambers of Commerce, tourist organizations, as well as individual tourist operators and interested individuals, it is stated in the release.

The task force, headed by Mr. Eakins, the Liberal Critic for Industry and Tourism, includes Ray Haggerty (Fort Erie), J. Earl McEwen (Frontenac-Addington), Sean Conway (Renfrew North), Eric Cunningham (Wentworth N.), Mike Bolan (Nipissing), Vince Kerrio (Niagara Falls), Jack Riddell (Huron-Middlesex), and Jim Bradley (St. Catharines).

Publisher locating at Haliburton Lake

Haliburton - Allan Muir, publisher of Log Home Guide for Builders and Buyers, and Doris Muir, editor of the magazine, will soon be taking up residence in Haliburton County, in what else but a log home.

The Muirs will be running a log home building course at a Haliburton Lake site starting Nov. 28 and the results will be the office and home of the couple.

The instructor for the course will be well known log home builder, Doug Lukian and Victor Nymark, who built the 186 room Chateau Montebello, and will be on hand for part of the two week session.

Persons interested in the course can call 514-457-2045 or call The Echo and Recorder office.

Mr. Muir was editor of Canadian Fisherman and Ocean Science before starting the Log Home Guide. He has 25 years experience in the editing and publishing business.

The extraordinary resurgence in log home building in both Canada and the U.S. in the past few years has inspired the publication of a new international magazine - "The Log Home Guide for Builders & Buyers." To be published annually in November of each year, the 1978 edition is now on the market and contains 132 pages of well-illustrated (both black and white and four-color) information about all aspects of building log homes and even larger structures such as the 186-room Chateau Montebello, a Canadian Pacific resort hotel, which is the largest log building in the world.

The old image of "lawg caybuns" has gone and today's log homes are being built with scientific precision, utilizing all the best techniques of the master Scandinavian log builders, plus the genius of American technology.

Square foot for square foot, today's log homes are far superior structures to the average conventional frame construction homes being put up by most builders. They are warmer in winter, cooler in summer, and so sturdy they will last for hundreds of years.

OPP seize ammunition and pistol

Minden - The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police seized a quantity of ammunition and a 45 calibre Colt pistol from a car in the parking lot of the Beaconbrook Hotel in Haliburton.

The seizure took place Nov. 10 at about 1:45 a.m.

John Walter Wayne Emerson, 37, of R.R. 1, Haliburton, has been charged with carrying a concealed weapon, possession of an unregistered weapon and possession of a restricted weapon outside a dwelling or business with no permit.

This scene can be found right in Haliburton Village. This week's tour covers the area from Haliburton Village to Eagle Lake and then back to the village. The tour can be covered in a very short time and provides a great deal of interesting scenery.

West Guilford and Eagle Lake are part of this week's Echo tour

Editor's Note: This is the seventh part in a series of tours of Haliburton County. This week's tour covers the area from Haliburton Village to West Guilford.

Travelling north out of Haliburton Village on Highway 530, this week's tour will take us onto Highway 519 and through Eagle Lake and past West Guilford and back to Haliburton.

The tour is one of the shorter routes we have taken through the county.

The roads, although not in the best of condition, give us the opportunity to see many sites common to the country.

On the tour one will see fast running water, lakes, hills and even some flat valley land.

The tour travels up 530 to the junction of 519 and turns to head for Eagle Lake.

Highway 519 travels through Eagle Lake and we can turn and head for West Guilford to make the route circular.

At Eagle Lake we find the fast water, common to many areas of Haliburton at the foot of Eagle Lake. This area is famous as a summer tourist area but is also famous for its skiing facilities, the only ones in the county, Sir Sam's Inn.

One will see a great deal of interesting scenery travelling from Eagle Lake to West Guilford, including some flat valley land, as well as lakes and streams.

The drive from West Guilford south to Haliburton also provides interesting scenery for motorists.

The bridge and dam at Eagle Lake provide some interesting shots for photographers. The one lane bridge has been part of the area for some time. Eagle Lake is well known as a summer and winter tourist area.

The new water tower in Minden is taking shape. The water tower is one of the last steps in servicing for most of the Village of Minden. Construction on the sewers for the village is nearing completion as well.

I must apologize for leaving some names off of the graduation list, last week, of the students from the Fenelon Falls Secondary School Commencement Exercises on Nov. 4. Other graduates who received Grade 12 Diplomas were Connie Brohm, Kathleen Gillett and Edward Weerdenburg from the Norland area. Brrr but it is cold outside, at least I feel it is and I have not even been outside yet. Guess I will just have to get used to winter and dig out the heavier clothes.

One thing I can advise you on, and that is if you go to the arena to watch any hockey games, be sure and wear warm clothing, especially if you go out where the action is, for it sure is cool out there. It isn't so bad behind the glass and some know that, yes I am up there sometimes and thanks to the men at the arena it is warm in the ticket office. If the kids would not stand in the outside door holding it open. No, you can't come in the office and watch the game for we can't see the game from there.

The Juveniles didn't win Friday evening. Cannington won 7-4, but Saturday Minden won or tied all five games. There were three games Sunday and when I left Minden had only won the first game.

The committee in charge of the building of the new library ask that you hold Nov. 29 open as there will be a meeting at the Parish Hall at 8 p.m. and there will be speakers from Peterborough, re Wintario Grants, explaining what has to be done to receive such grants.

Karen Mason, of Missishunting season, I have news of some of our local hunters who have succeeded in returning with something from the hunt. Butch and Rick Pollard, reportedly killed two deer near Scrabble Mountain and Holly Cooper, Leonard Greer, John Eason and three other Coboconk men, while hunting in the Chapleau area, shot and killed a moose. There has been a large number of hunters away, but not all have been lucky in arriving back with wildlife for their freezers.

Winner of Norland Volunteer Firefighter's Assoc. Hockey Pool, on Nov. 5, was Carol Magee with 5 seconds.

Garth Nicholls, son-in-law of Neil and Nora Bryant, Norland, returned home Nov. 3 from Libya, Africa where he had been working since Oct. 8 for K. Line International. Garth, Gwen and their three children reside in Fenelon Falls where Garth is employed by the town hydro.

Congratulations to Adrian and Marjorie Lee of Shadow Lee Bay Trailer Park who celebrated their 37th Anniversary on Nov. 16. The Bowling Club surprised the couple with a cake and coffee following the bowling on Wednesday evening. They will celebrate again on Sat., Nov. 19, with members of their family at a dinner party in Toronto and leave on the 20th for a two week holiday to Freeport, The Bahamas.

John Pollard, son of Bill and Gladys Pollard, who appeared for the first time this summer at the Stratford Festival Theatre, has signed a three year contract with Stratford - an indication, I'm sure, that John was well received as an actor this past season. He and his mother will leave December 3 for Antigua, for a holiday - John to stay a month, while Gladys will remain for the winter months and be joined before Christmas by the rest of her family.

Norland Bowling Team standings, as of Nov. 9. Team of J. Maunder - 33 points; K. Watson - 26 points; E. Forsythe - 22 points; D. Boyce - 18 points; J. Boyce - 14 points; and E. Edwards - 13 points. Ladies high single and triple - Michelle Angiers - 234 and 573; Ladies high average - Rotha Bryant 187. Men's high single and triple - Doug Boyce 237 and 604. Men's high average - Ernie Edwards 218.

Mr. & Mrs. George Cowen have been spending some time with the Gordon Alcorn's. Myrtle is enjoying a good visit while George is having a hunt. Sorry the weatherman didn't come up with colder, dryer weather.

Bill and Alven Cowen have also been away with a hunting party. Reports say they have had some luck, perhaps more by the end of the season.

Mrs. George Hutchings and Mrs. Marie Smith visited one day recently with Uncle Oscar Sisson, Isabelle, and Aunt Mildred Wright who was visiting with her home folk while her two sons, Keith of Belleville and Ross of Oshawa, were enjoying a hunt in the Ironlake area where they used to live.

Miss Kate MacKay, Mrs. Ellen Avery, Mrs. Jennie McLennan and Mrs. Anderson, all of Dorset, were entertained to luncheon on Tuesday, Nov. 8, at the home of your local correspondent. In the afternoon, since the visitors had brought their craft work along, all enjoyed an informal visit by the fireplace while furthering their worthwhile projects.

Betty and Jack Yateman were at their son's in Orillia recently and on their return announced that they were proud grandparents of a fine baby boy. Congratulations!

The Tuesday Night Combines bowling league is going strong these weeks. Team scores are fairly close, and as each week brings them closer to the end of the first series of games, excitement runs high. Competition is a great way to encourage bowlers, and we have some really great bowlers, both men and women. Unfortunately, I am not one of these skillful people.

We understand the children had a day off from school for Remembrance Day, but thinking back to my teaching days, I believe I can truthfully say that many of the younger children don't know what Remembrance Day is really for. They think of the day as being just another holiday, which is too bad.

Having had a brother with the Royal Canadian Engineers, in World War II, who crossed the English Channel and landed on the French beach on D-day, only to be maimed by shrapnel in his shoulder and knee within a half hour of landing, I have cause to remember, as he spent three years in hospitals in England before being allowed to come home when the action was over.

May I express sympathy and also appreciation to all who have had "cause to remember" due to the loss of loved ones, or due to crippling effects on others. May we "keep faith with those who died," in order that "poppies may blow in Flanders Fields."

No doubt skating enthusiasts are anxiously awaiting the ice to go in the outdoor rink soon. Weather has been very mild all along, but you can be sure that is all changing very soon.

Mr. & Mrs. T. Hodgeson are at home again after visiting with relatives and friends in St. Catharines for a week.

Congratulations to Bob Patton on having earned a two week vacation for himself and Elinor in Yugoslavia. Bob's business is with North Shore Lawn and Garden Equipment, and the vacation was made possible by his integrity and alertness in his sales. Speaking with Elinor since their return home to Beechview Cottages Resort, on Beech Lake, I learned that they found the country somewhat different from what they expected in some ways, but very rugged, beautiful scenery, very old, almost ancient, walled cities, and narrow streets, etc. All in all they report having had a wonderful vacation.

Mrs. Violet Smith is visiting a few days during hunting season, with her sister, Hilda (Mrs. Roy Vancleave) in Baysville.

Apparently deer are not so plentiful this year as last, though some hunters were fortunate enough to get their deer. Wolves are plentiful and, listening to those who know what they are talking about, that is one reason there are fewer deer around. Certainly, wolves have been heard howling less than a mile away from our house. Perhaps a good bounty would make it profitable for hunters to use their ammunition on wolves this winter.

PREPARE SMALL ENGINES FOR WINTER

Preparing your small engines for their winter hibernation will decrease your starting problems in the spring and save much wear-and-tear on the motor. If you can store the motor in a dry and warm place, then you ought to drain the fuel from both the tank and carburetor. But if it's to be stored in a cold and damp shed, the fuel tank should be left full to prevent rusting and water condensation.

Don't forget to drain out all the old crankcase oil before storing. This oil is likely full of dirt that could settle in the bottom of the pan during the long winter, and break loose to gum up the engine later. Replace the drained oil with the recommended oil for the engine. Then, clean the area around the spark plug and remove it.

Then, for the two-stroke engine, twist the crankshaft so that the piston is above the exhaust port. Next, pour two tablespoons or so of oil into the cylinder cavity. Turn the crankshaft over slowly a few times to evenly distribute the oil film. This practice will lessen the chance of rust and a sticking piston later on.

For your four-stroke cycle engine, crank the driveshaft to a position other than top dead center. Top dead center is the time when the piston

Veterans of the two world wars marched in the parade and participated in the Remembrance Day Services held in Haliburton Village on Friday. Services

Many veterans turn out Remembrance Day Service

Armistice Day, Friday, November 11, 1977 was a cold and snowy day, but it did not deter the county's veterans, and a large number were on hand for the Remembrance Service and parade to the Cenotaph. The service in the hall was well attended and was conducted by the Branch Padre, Comrade Norman Healy. The President spoke briefly on Flanders Fields and its relevance today. The parade formed at 10:30 with parade marshal Lloyd Baker in charge and moved off, led by the Legion Pipe and Drum Band. At the Cenotaph the hymn Abide With Me was sung and this was followed by the reading of the Roll of Honor by the President. The wreath laying ceremony followed and our Silver Cross Mother this year was Mrs. Rose Carnahan of Haliburton. Other wreaths were laid by the county, several municipalities, Branch 129, the Ladies Auxiliary Br. 129 and many private In Memoriams. The Last Post was sounded, followed by two minutes silence, and Pipe Major Earl Cooper played the Lament with trumpet Don Wright sounding Reveille. God Save the Queen was sung and the parade returned to the Legion Hall.

Coffee, tea and sandwiches were served by members of the LA and were much appreciated by everyone. In the evening a delicious dinner was served by our associate members and fraternals. Among the head table guests were Reeve, Murray Fearrey, Phyllis Montemiglio, Zone Commander LA F4, Greta Curry, Pres. LA Br. 129, and Comrade Douglas and Mrs. Worrall of Lindsay. Comrade Doug is Zone Commander, Zone F4.

Reeve Murray and Comrade Doug spoke briefly and then the president turned the mike over to the Honours and Awards Chairman, Comrade Don Johnston. Don presented twenty-five and thirty year pins to a number of the members. President Greta also presented pins to several members of the LA and was pleasantly surprised when Comrade Don presented her with the 25 year pin. At this time the Past Presidents were introduced, as were our four Charter Members. These Old Sweats received a standing ovation. At this time the charter members and the past presidents retired to the main foyer where the charter members unveiled our new Past Presidents Plaque. When everyone was again seated the president of the Ladies Auxiliary presented the Branch President with a cheque for $1,000.00 toward the building fund.

After the tables were cleared we were treated to some lively music by the Pipe and Drum Band and then the Highland Scottish Dancers performed several numbers for the enjoyment of the audience. An evening of dance followed, with Comrades Ray Jenkins and Harold Broadhagen providing the music live and Comrade Cec Bailey playing tapes for the latter part of the evening. The president wishes to thank everyone for contributing to the day, and for REMEMBERING.

were held at the Haliburton Legion and at the Cenotaph.

reaches the top of its engine stroke. Again, add two tablespoons of oil through the spark plug hole.

If your engine has a fuel filter, it is wise to remove and clean it before storing. The same goes for the air cleaner.

Now is the time to remove the shrouds and check the governor linkage for wear. If they appear worn, you can order new parts and have them installed before spring.

If the linkage appears in good shape, add a few drops of oil so that the links are protected against rusting.

And while you have the engine in your shop and cleaned up, it might be the right time to check for loose or missing bolts and nuts.

horsepower down to about a quarter horsepower. They were water cooled, and of the hit and miss ignition made plenty of noise. The throttle governor had not been invented. Also, the first big tractors such as the 30-60 Rumley, Hart Parr, International Mogul and Titan, were all hit and miss ignition. They made a terrible noise.

The grandstand attraction at the Fair that night was a demonstration by a man with an airplane. It was one of the first airplanes to be seen in Regina. The engine and the propeller were behind the wings and the pilot sat on a flimsy seat away out in front. Talk about nerve, that man had lots of it. I saw him walking out of the plane in a high plug hat and a frock coat.

When they started up the motor you would think that the whole thing was going to fly to pieces. After it ran a few minutes and looked like it was okay, the pilot gave it the gun and took off in a relatively short run in front of the grandstand. He went over the prairie until he was barely visible and then returned and landed again in front of the grandstand. The pilot was still wearing his frock coat and he waved his plug hat to the audience. He decided to make a second flight, so a bunch of men pushed the plane to the west end so he could take off again, and he repeated the flight.

Those early planes were flimsy and the men who flew them must have been devoid of fear. Sitting out on that flimsy seat in front with nothing to protect them, if the plane had crashed in a nose dive, the engine would have crushed them.

On another year when I was at the Regina Fair, I saw a stooking machine. It was attached to the binder where the sheaf carrier was. They had some sheaves made and this stooker would set them up into stooks perfectly. It looked like you would need another horse to pull it to make up for the extra draft. However, the man who invented that machine was about fifty years too late. Shortly after the combines came and the days of stooking were over.

Another thing that I saw at the Fair at about that time was a steam tractor made on the same principal as a steam car. It would be about thirty horsepower. It was belted to a small separator. The engine ran so quietly you could hardly hear it. I only saw it the one season and often wondered what became of it. Did some company buy it to keep it out of production like the Pogue carburetor?

The Word of God

restoration of the land. Let us concentrate upon it for a short time.

Before we set forth the scripture teaching on this it is essential that we point out three things: a) That only a remnant would return from captivity. b) That the remnant would be one nation. No longer would the kingdom or nation continue to be divided. c) That the remnant did return, hence fulfilling all promises of such. That which is fulfilled looks no further for fulfillment. Now to the promises.

Out of the many passages that could be pointed to regarding the return from captivity we will consider a few of the more definite ones. In Isaiah 1:9 - "Except the Lord of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah." The context of Isaiah 10:20-25, makes many references to "remnant" and speaks also of the "house of Jacob" and "of Israel". Over in Ezra 9:14-15 we see Ezra warn of the danger of further disobedience after their return, suggesting that God would consume them and that there would be "no remnant" left. A section of Nehemiah chapter one is devoted to this promised return (see verses 1-10).

What of the remnant, what form would it return in? The answer lies in Jeremiah 30:3 "For, lo, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the Lord: and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it." Further, we read in Jeremiah 50:4 - "In those days, and in that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together..." Both Hosea 1:11 and Ezekiel 37:17-23 add evidence to the fact that the returnees would be one nation. In our next article we will discuss their return, see you then.

News from Extendicare

BY DR. O.W. ANDERSON

Again we begin the week in welcoming a new member to the Happy Gang, Mrs. Florence Stagg. Our ladies will see to that, so do what you can to make her feel at home.

We are informed that one of our nurses, Mrs. Lynn Phillips, is on the sick list. It is hoped she soon will be returned to duty.

All of the residents previously reported on holiday are back, all feeling much better for the time off.

It amazes us to hear from Ottawa the furor over the R.C.M.P. Surely when a trusted servant is asked or ordered to do something, he or she doesn't ask how it should be done, but do it. That is precisely what they are trained to do no matter rules or not. The R.C.M.P. would be useless as a security force if they didn't. The only reason for the furor is to provide a basis for some legal work that will make some Ottawa lawyers wealthy. Surely with all the indexed pensions around Parliament the members and senior civil servants are wealthy enough out of the Canadian taxpayers. We strongly feel that because the R.C.M.P. have not done harm in any way and by any stretch of the imagination, they should be left alone to do their work and the members to do theirs. As for the bugging of the phones, if the activities of elected persons are lawful they should be in a position to invite any clandestine surveillance if done by any lawful surveillance agency. If they are not lawful, the sooner they are caught the better.

Still another new member has been added to the Happy Gang, Mrs. Edna Leveley. Our ladies are already giving her a hearty welcome.

We were happy to learn that Mrs. Lorna Hogg celebrated her twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary last Saturday. They should be able to more than double that, at least we hope so. Each of us were given a portion of the anniversary wedding cake and it was really delicious.

Our devotional period, Friday morning, was led by Rev. Don Nicholson, pastor of Haliburton United Church. Mrs. Florence Burk at the piano. The theme was the comradeship we have in Christ.

Items that may be of concern to some are coughing and sneezing, two of the chief ways of spreading the germs of disease. It is very easy to make these harmless; always carry a clean handkerchief and when coughing or sneezing, with the kerchief folded or bunched in the hand, cover the nose and mouth. Then we will have no more concern.

The Canadian economy is an expression that defies understanding except by the intellectuals that work inside it. Anyone who has the price can travel to any foreign soil without restrictions except a few passport formalities, and stay and spend as they choose. Foreign tourists spend their currencies here and at year end the government totals the two scores and it seems there is a $2 billion deficit to Canada, with apparently no concern at all, even to the point of taking it for granted that it can continue indefinitely even though it is known that at least $5 million dollars daily, or more, is exported to the U.S. to pay the interest on Canada's borrowing there. It therefore can all be summed up in the expression "it beggars our understanding." It would perhaps help if someone would explain the intricacies of it.

Euchre is becoming quite a past time here with about seven of us becoming addicts such as Jake Gill, Charlie Welch, Duncan Bethune, Mary Currah, Ezra Lott, Ray Smith and Stewart Roberts. They manage to make quite a production out of it. Working with the plants and flowers

The right of way has been used by each of the property owners for many years (in excess of 20) and therefore to avoid any controversy in future with regard to a right of way the Township council will only give approval if this right of deed access is afforded to all of the ratepayers who use same for access to their property. Carried.

PLAN N° 77-1226
AREA: 1226 sq. ft.
WIDTH: 40 ft.

Home of the Week

SPLIT LEVEL CONTEMPORARY

Plan Number: 77-1226:

This three bedroom, partial basement, side split offers many convenience features designed for gracious living and yet is well-suited to a narrow frontage lot. The eye-catching exterior creates an impression of the mountain chalet with its diagonal siding, cedar shake roof and stone veneer chimney.

The very large rectangular living/dining room combination, with cantilevered stone veneer fireplace, excellent natural light and sliding door separating it from the kitchen, makes large scale entertaining a pleasure. An easy separation of formal dining and casual family meals is greatly facilitated by the central positioning of the U-shaped kitchen between the dining room and the large dining nook.

Casual outdoor meals in fair weather are encouraged by the rear patio connecting to the dining nook via sliding glass doors. For those who prefer it, the nook could be partially separated from the kitchen by a snack bar counter - enabling the furnishing of the nook as a small family lounge or family room.

All three bedrooms are centrally positioned around the main bathroom, which has a sliding door separating the tub and toilet from the vanity counter and sink. The spacious master bedroom has a walk-in closet; three piece ensuite with tub, and sliding glass doors leading onto the rear deck. The secondary bedrooms also have sliding doors leading on to a front balcony - further creating the mood of a mountain retreat.

A partial basement under the master bedroom provides the space necessary for future development of a recreation room, workshop, or possible bedroom for the growing family.

Plans for design No. 77-1226 may be obtained at a cost of $50, for the first set and $9, for each additional set, plus $4.00 for postage and handling. B.C. residents please include 7 per cent sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs Series #34 featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas, plus 350 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling). To order these items please send cheque or money order payable to the Home of the Week, address to: Home of the Week, c/o The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder, 382 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C.
